DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH OR THE VITAL RECORDS OFFICE FOR BIRTH CERTIFICATE

Contact the local Department of Health or the Vital Records office in the state in which you were born to get a copy of your birth certificate. Follow the instructions for requesting copies and paying fees. If you need a copy fast, ask about expedited service or shipping when you place your order.

If you live in Colorado go to: cdphe.colorado.gov/vitalrecords
To get a copy online, go to www.usa.gov/replace-vital-documents

Here, you can replace Vital Records:

- How to Replace Lost or Stolen ID Cards
- Vital Records Issued in the United States
- Get a Copy of Your Birth Certificate
- How to Get a Copy of a Marriage Certificate or a Marriage License
- How to Get a Certified Copy of a Death Certificate
- Divorce Decrees and Certificates
- How to Find Adoption Records

The exact process of obtaining a state identification card varies from state to state. To find out how to get an ID in your state, visit your local DMV or visit your state's DMV website. See links above.

If you have your birth certificate, this should be enough to obtain an I.D. because it is a valid way to prove your identity and obtain an I.D. If you don't have a copy of your birth certificate, you can obtain one from the local Department of Health or the Vital Records office in the state in which you were born. If you live in Colorado go to: www.cdphe.colorado.gov/vitalrecords

Other documents you may be able to use to obtain a state-issued I.D. are:

- Social Security card
- Insurance cards
- School enrollment record
- Arrest record
- Voter registration record
- Native American tribal I.D. document
- Immigration documents, such as a "green card"

To get an I.D., you must prove that you're a resident of your state. In some states, you can use a receipt from a motel or campground to establish your residency and obtain I.D. In most states, letters from homeless shelters attesting to an I.D. applicant's local residence are sufficient to establish residency. When you visit your local DMV or speak with a representative online or on the phone, ask which documents are acceptable for establishing residency in your state. In order to obtain an I.D. card, you may be required to fill out forms and pay a fee. In some states, this fee is waived if you earn less than a specific income amount. Colorado State I.D.s and Driver Licenses can be obtained at the DMV as well. See contact information below
